CONTENTS OF VOLUME I.

THE introduction — Page 3
On the origin of letters — 7
On the origin of printing — 12
On language — — — 13
Extract of a tour through Sicily and Malta — — — 16, 53
On the cauſes of the preſent high price of proviſions — 24
Maxims and reflections, ſelected from ſeveral authors — — 28
Epitome of the Dolphin and Tamar's voyage round the world 29, 61
Account of the diſtreſs of the London Eaſt-India-Man — 37
On the ſtuffing and preſerving of birds 38
Anecdotes of Sir Iſaac Newton 40
On the coin-act — — 42
Articles of intelligence — 45
Meteorological diary of the weather, for July, 1773 — — 48
Eſſay on frugality — — 49
On ſympathy — — 71
On benevolence — — 76
On compoſition — — 80
An addreſs to the youth — 83, 115
On the pride of high-birth — 86
Medical cautions — — 89
Articles of intelligence — 97
Prices of ſtocks, for Sept. 28, 1773 104
Meteorological diary of the weather, for Auguſt, 1773 — 104
On the evil of infidelity — 105
Cato; or, an eſſay on old age 109
Obſervations on the town — 119
On the different conditions of youth and age — — 123
On the meaſles — — 126
Deſcription of Aleppo — 128
Hiſtory of Amelia Gray 131, 236, 372
Deſcription of a ſtorm — 134
Moral reflections upon ſelf-love 137
The character of an antiquary 138
On the doctrine of a Providence 140
Remarks on lightning — 147
Articles of intelligence — 153
Liſt of bankrupts, births, marriages, and deaths — — 156
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 157
Average prices of corn, from October 11, to Oct. 16, 1773 158
Meteorological diary of the weather, for September, 1773 — 159
Prices of ſtocks, from September 29, to October 26, 1773 — 160
On conjectural metaphyſics 161
On the complaints of mankind 167
On ſuperſtition — — 172
Account of the bread-fruit tree 177
Account of Batavia — 178
Origin of parliaments and juries Page 187
Character of a very miſchievous monoſyllable — — 189
An authentic anecdote — 191
Deſcription of a diſeaſe vulgarly called, the hyp— — 193
Obſervations on the country 196
Doubts reſpecting inoculation 199
An account of two earthquakes 203
Celebration of the feaſt of St. Roſalia 208
Extracts from miſcellaneous pieces in proſe, by J. and A. L. Aikin 211
Liſt of bankrupts, marriages, and deaths — — 212
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 213
Average prices of corn, from November 15, to Nov. 20, 1773 214
Meteorological diary of the weather, for October, 1773 — 215
Prices of ſtocks, from October 27, to November 25, 1773 — 216
Reflections on human life 217
On the partiality of parents 221
On a conceited character — 225
Reflections on the capricious humour of ſome men — — 228
On happineſs — — 229
Reflections on original genius 240
Reflections on autumn — 242
On forgiving injuries — 245
An affecting ſtory — 250
On ſelf-love — — 252
On the knowledge of the world 253
On the popular ſpecies of pedantry 255
The character of a coffee houſe lounger — — 257
On public dancing-rooms 258
The gameſters, an apologue 260
Anſwer to the doubts reſpecting inoculation — — 261
Letter to the editor — 263
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 264
Exports of linen — 264
Meteorological diary of the weather, for November, 1773 — 269
Prices of wheat, at the London corn-market, for the laſt 40 years 270, 271
Marriages and deaths 270, 271
Prices of ſtocks, from November 27, to December 26, 1773 — 272
Defence of inoculation — 273
On friendſhip — 282
On the viciſſitudes of human life 287
On time — — 291
On the gradation of beings 293
On calmneſs and equanimity 295
On charity — — 299
On moral philoſophers — 303

The

CONTENTS OF VOLUME I.

THE introduction — Page 3
On the origin of letters — 7
On the origin of printing — 12
On language — — — 13
Extract of a tour through Sicily and Malta — — — 16, 53
On the cauſes of the preſent high price of proviſions — 24
Maxims and reflections, ſelected from ſeveral authors — — 28
Epitome of the Dolphin and Tamar's voyage round the world 29, 61
Account of the diſtreſs of the London Eaſt-India-Man — 37
On the ſtuffing and preſerving of birds 38
Anecdotes of Sir Iſaac Newton 40
On the coin-act — — 42
Articles of intelligence — 45
Meteorological diary of the weather, for July, 1773 — — 48
Eſſay on frugality — — 49
On ſympathy — — 71
On benevolence — — 76
On compoſition — — 80
An addreſs to the youth — 83, 115
On the pride of high-birth — 86
Medical cautions — — 89
Articles of intelligence — 97
Prices of ſtocks, for Sept. 28, 1773 104
Meteorological diary of the weather, for Auguſt, 1773 — 104
On the evil of infidelity — 105
Cato; or, an eſſay on old age 109
Obſervations on the town — 119
On the different conditions of youth and age — — 123
On the meaſles — — 126
Deſcription of Aleppo — 128
Hiſtory of Amelia Gray 131, 236, 372
Deſcription of a ſtorm — 134
Moral reflections upon ſelf-love 137
The character of an antiquary 138
On the doctrine of a Providence 140
Remarks on lightning — 147
Articles of intelligence — 153
Liſt of bankrupts, births, marriages, and deaths — — 156
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 157
Average prices of corn, from October 11, to Oct. 16, 1773 158
Meteorological diary of the weather, for September, 1773 — 159
Prices of ſtocks, from September 29, to October 26, 1773 — 160
On conjectural metaphyſics 161
On the complaints of mankind 167
On ſuperſtition — — 172
Account of the bread-fruit tree 177
Account of Batavia — 178
Origin of parliaments and juries Page 187
Character of a very miſchievous monoſyllable — — 189
An authentic anecdote — 191
Deſcription of a diſeaſe vulgarly called, the hyp— — 193
Obſervations on the country 196
Doubts reſpecting inoculation 199
An account of two earthquakes 203
Celebration of the feaſt of St. Roſalia 208
Extracts from miſcellaneous pieces in proſe, by J. and A. L. Aikin 211
Liſt of bankrupts, marriages, and deaths — — 212
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 213
Average prices of corn, from November 15, to Nov. 20, 1773 214
Meteorological diary of the weather, for October, 1773 — 215
Prices of ſtocks, from October 27, to November 25, 1773 — 216
Reflections on human life 217
On the partiality of parents 221
On a conceited character — 225
Reflections on the capricious humour of ſome men — — 228
On happineſs — — 229
Reflections on original genius 240
Reflections on autumn — 242
On forgiving injuries — 245
An affecting ſtory — 250
On ſelf-love — — 252
On the knowledge of the world 253
On the popular ſpecies of pedantry 255
The character of a coffee houſe lounger — — 257
On public dancing-rooms 258
The gameſters, an apologue 260
Anſwer to the doubts reſpecting inoculation — — 261
Letter to the editor — 263
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 264
Exports of linen — 264
Meteorological diary of the weather, for November, 1773 — 269
Prices of wheat, at the London corn-market, for the laſt 40 years 270, 271
Marriages and deaths 270, 271
Prices of ſtocks, from November 27, to December 26, 1773 — 272
Defence of inoculation — 273
On friendſhip — 282
On the viciſſitudes of human life 287
On time — — 291
On the gradation of beings 293
On calmneſs and equanimity 295
On charity — — 299
On moral philoſophers — 303

The

The female's guardian Page 307
On malice — — 310
Account of Dr. Lettſom's traveller's companion — 313
On party-rage — — 318
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — — 320
American affairs — 325
Meteorological diary of the weather, for December, 1773 — 326
Average prices of corn, from January 17, to Jan. 22, 1773 327
Prices of ſtocks, from December 27, 1773, to Jan. 25, 1774 328
Philoſophical inveſtigations 329
On the folly of antiquaries 335
Deſcription of ſeveral curious natural caves — — 339
Eſſay on propriety of conduct 341
Diſſertation upon ſolitude — 344
Deſcription of a wonderful cavern in Upper-Hungary — 345
Of wits — — 345
Noble behaviour of the empreſs of Ruſſia — — 347
Reflections on virtue and vice 348
Reflections on human life and death 351
An addreſs to mankind in general, and to the learned in particular 357
Extract of a journal of a voyage of commodore Phipps and captain Lutwidge — 363, 423
Addreſs to the proprietary of the canal from Leeds to Liverpool 375
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — 376
Letter to the editor — 377
Letter on the exportation of grain 380
Average prices of corn, from Feb. 7, to Feb. 12, 1774 — 382
Meteorological diary of the weather, for January, 1774 — 383
Prices of ſtocks, from January 26, to February 22, 1774 — 384
Scattered remarks on the ſciences 385
Reflections on cruelty — 393
Obſervations on bread-flour 397
Account of Aix-la-Chapelle 400
Paternal inſtructions — 403
On the high price of corn — 408
On gratitude, particularly as it reſpects the Deity — 410
Account of a Roman triumph 413
Account of the manners, cuſtoms, kings, and government, of the ancient Egyptians — 415
Character of Martin Luther 420
Reply to the defence of inoculation 429
Price of wheat at the corn-market, Mark-lane — 439
Meteorological diary of the weather, for February, 1774 Page 439
Prices of ſtocks, from February 23, to March 24, 1774 — 440
The folly of miſpending time 443
An hiſtorical anecdote — 444
Hiſtory of the Marchioneſs de Gange 446
The academy of abſtraction 449
Sleep, an eſſay — 453
Account of the iſland of Juan Fernandez — — 455
Deſcription of the ſea-ſpider 457
On matrimonial friendſhip 458
Remarks on ſome celebrated novel-writers — — 461
Meditations in a church-yard 462
On happineſs — — 464
On toleration — — 468
Account of the city of Alexandria 471
Deſcription of the olive-tree 476
An affecting anecdote — 477
Extracts from Saintfoix's hiſtorical eſſays on Paris — 479
On card-playing — 480
Cauſe of the high price of corn 482
Hiſtory of lies — — 484
Meteorological diary of the weather, for March, 1774 — 494
Average prices of corn, from April 11, to April 16, 1774 495
Prices of ſtocks, from March 28, to April 26, 1774 — 496
Eſſay on happineſs — 497
On pride — — 501
Of genius, with reſpect to the univerſe — — 504
Reflections on moral theology 507
On the purſuits of virtue and vice 511
Account of the Jewiſh excommunications — — 514
Thoughts on civilization — 518
Hints on inoculation — 522
Remarks on Ogilvie's Day of Judgement — 527, 580, 689
Account of Loweſtoft — 531
Diſſertation on the ſcriptures 532, 569, 628, 696
Thoughts on Deity — 535
Looſe thoughts on the different ſtations of life — 537
On the difference between our precepts and practice — 540
Of good example — 543
Apoſtrophe to temperance 544
Meteorological diary of the weather, for April, 1774 — 550
Average prices of corn, from May 16, to May 21, 1774 — 551
Prices of ſtocks, from April 27, to May 26, 1774 — 552

Letter

Letter from a tutor to two of his pupils — — Page 553
Letter to the editor — 560
A dream — — 562
On the origin of kingdoms 566
Recommendation of good-humour 573
Reflections on the ſoul — 577
Deſcription of the ſpordaca or tree-frog — — 578
On the paſſions — 578
On extravagant epitaphs — 584
On detraction — 585
On the ill effects of cloſe rooms 588
Account of the medical memoirs of the general diſpenſary — 592
Account of Colcheſter — 595
On avarice — — 598
Meteorological diary of the weather, for May, 1774 — 606
Average prices of corn, from June 6, to June 11, 1774 — 607
Prices of ſtocks, from May 27, to June 24, 1774 — 608
On the pride of high birth 609
On charity — 614
On men of honour, and the term, virtue — Page 617
View of the planetary world 618
Miſcellaneous reflections — 622
On talkativeneſs — 633
Account of the inundations of the Nile — — 637
Of the love we owe to God 644
Letter to the editor — 647
Hiſtory of Credulia — 648, 672
On the advantages of poverty 651
Average prices of corn, from July 11, to July 16, 1774 — 662
Meteorological Diary of the weather, for June, 1774 — 663
Prices of ſtocks, from June 27, to July 26, 1774 — 664
On the penal laws — 665
Eſſay on moral writings — 668
On poverty and riches — 678
A ſecond letter from a tutor to two of his pupils — 681
On the correſpondents ſignatures 693
Philoſophical obſervations on man 700
On human happineſs — 705

POETRY.

An elegy — Page 43
On the divine wiſdom 93
The recluſe, an elegy — 151
An epitaph — — 152
Deſcription of morning — 152
Deſcription of a tempeſtuous morning — — 152
Verſes written at Buxton — 206
An evening meditation — 206
The happy man — 207
The beggar — — 207
Arne, or the complaint — 265
An elegy — — 266
Winter, a poem — — 267
Winter, an ode — — 268
Ode to M. de Maupertuis, by the king of Pruſſia, tranſlated from the French — 321
To the gentlemen active in making the river Bure navigable 322
The ſpeech of Caractacus to the emperor Claudius — 322
Ode from a young gentleman recovered of a violent fever — 323
Verſes written on taking the air after a fit of illneſs — 323
To a lady, with Young's Night-Thoughts — — 324
An epitaph — — 324
Ode on ſpring — 378
To Theophilus and Uphal[illegible] 378
The ſearch of happin[illegible] 379
Picture of a male coquet Page 434
On ſeeing a picture of May Drummond, in the character of winter 434
The cell of contemplation, a viſion 434
The contented philoſopher 489
Hymn to virtue — 490
Epitaph on a very lovely boy 490
Elegy on the death of a friend 490
To ſpring — — 491
Soliloquy — — 493
Humanity, a poem — 545
Epitaph on a good poor woman, buried in Shoreham church-yard 546
Night, a poem — 546
Epitaph in Briſtol cathedral 547
Ode to morning — — 548
To Euſebius — — 600
Epiſtle to a friend in Philadelphia 601
A walk from Norwich to Saffronwalden — — 603
Pſalm cxlviii. paraphraſed, by Dr. Ogilvie — — 604
Ode to ſpleen — 657
Pſalm xxiii. attempted in verſe 657
On recovery from a fit of ſickneſs 658
The ſchool-boy, a poetical eſſay 658
On the troubles and croſſes met with in human life — 669
The inſtructions of virtue, a vi[illegible] 713
Advice to a friend on the ſcore of marriage 715
Ode to melancholy 716

END OF VOLUME [illegible]

BROOKLYN LIBRARY 109 MONTAGUE ST.
LIBRARY Pratt Inst. BROOKLYN.
Pratt Coll. Institute